About Marie

Marie has been training dogs since 1987. Her first competitive dog was a female Border Collie, "Megan" OTCH McCann Megan AG.X Am UD. This wonderful dog's career combined for over 50 High in Trials. She was the #1 Obedience Dog in Canada in 1998 and #3 in 1996. She has multiple placements at tournaments such as the World Series in Detroit, Michigan and the Hit of Hits competition in Ottawa, Ontario. Megan and Marie also earned an USDAA Masters Agility Dog title and Megan was a member of 3 North American Flyball Association Championship teams. Marie is most proud of Megan's wonderful attitude in the ring and her 98% pass rate.

Marie is well known for her problem solving skills, getting to the root of the problem while always maintaining the dogs "learning state of mind". Her consideration for the dog's view of the exercise is paramount above all else at her training school, Companion Dog Training located in Cambridge, Ontario. Her student's dogs perform happily, accurately and with a high pass rate in all levels of competition. Marie focuses on strong foundation and relationship skills by using games and a wide variety of training exercises. Her ability to break the exercise down into pieces and put it back together to strengthen the dog's understanding of the skill is what has brought her so much success over the years. Marie's skill of being able to explain the "how to" is evident in her classes, seminars and articles she writes for Dog Sport and Canine Review magazines.

In 2003 Marie published her "Ring Ready" series of books. These books focus on helping your dog better understand and perform each skill in the sport of obedience. In 2006 Marie published her new book "Rally On".
